The details

This bike is a limited edition model, with only 80 units being made each year!

The engine is the same 450cc engine they use in the KTM SX-F 450 motocross bike, but with some specialist engine modifications they manage to gain around 35hp more out of the standard engine.

The gearbox runs the exact same ratios as the championship winning machines of the Red Bull KTM Factory Racing team.

The frame is made from chromium-molybdenum steel in a trellis design.

The rear self-supporting fuel tank, with a capacity of 16 litres, doubles up as the subframe.

The bike has three fuel tanks in total, the two front tanks are linked, and the rear is separate. The rider can use either of the tanks, using the switch on the handlebars means you can swap tanks on the move.

The bike can carry approximately 33 litres of fuel in total.
